Capgemini receives record number of seven AWS 2023 Partner of the Year Awards

AWS recognizes Capgemini's global leadership in AI, innovation and industry

Paris, December 14, 2023 – Capgemini today announced that it has won seven AWS Partner of the Year awards across a record number of global and local categories, including the coveted Artificial Intelligence and Machine Learning (AI/ML) Global Partner of the Year award. The awards demonstrate Capgemini's excellence in supporting joint clients to meet the demands of the dual transition to a digital and sustainable economy. AWS also named Capgemini its Global Innovation Partner of the Year for delivering outstanding customer experience via an integrated lifecycle of services, and Global Industry Partner of the Year for Automotive due to Capgemini's proven ability to accelerate transformation through purpose-built cloud capabilities and deep industry expertise. This year, AWS also named Capgemini its Global System Integration Partner of the Year for the EMEA region, recognizing Capgemini's steadfast focus on delivering significant business impact.

As organizations across sectors and geographies navigate the next wave of generative AI transformation, Capgemini and AWS are well-placed to help joint clients implement their generative AI investments at scale and deliver business value through breakthrough innovations and industry-specific solutions. Capgemini was recognized in the AI/ML category for the development of the Lifecycle Optimization for Aerospace platform, built on AWS's Cloud, that aims to accelerate the adoption of circular economy practices in the aviation industry.

The Lifecycle Optimization for Aerospace platform utilizes AI/ML to consolidate historical operation data and reconstructs a complete traceability of all the constituent parts of an aircraft. It is a foundational digital asset on which Capgemini builds services to optimize maintenance approaches and the use of existing parts. It also provides a decision-making tool for users in the various stages of the sustainability value chain.

In total, Capgemini has won seven global and local AWS Partner Awards this year. The full list includes:

- AWS GSI AI/ML Partner of the Year - Global
- AWS Industry Partner of the Year - Automotive – Global
- AWS Innovation Partner of the Year- Global
- AWS GSI Partner of the Year - EMEA
- AWS GSI Partner of the Year – LATAM
- AWS Sustainability Partner of the Year – Greater China Region
- AWS GSI Partner of the Year – Iberia

"For over a decade, Capgemini and AWS have together delivered significant impact for clients across all industries to help realize their business goals. Combining our deep industry expertise and global talent, with AWS' cloud experience, we continue to enable innovative solutions on AWS platforms that help businesses thrive in today's digital and sustainable economy," said Antoine Imbert, Group Head of Hyperscaler Strategic Initiatives and Partners at Capgemini. "This year, we are delighted to win the AI/ML award for the first time, along with several other global and regional awards across categories such as Sustainability, Industry, and Innovation. It is testament of our commitment to enable joint clients to unlock the full potential of AI technologies, as businesses navigate the next wave of generative AI with emphasis on moving from pilot to production at scale."

Capgemini recently announced a €2 billion investment in Artificial Intelligence to build its leadership in this transformative technology, and that it will also double its Data & AI teams to 60,000 in the next three years. Capgemini is a founding member of AWS' Generative AI Centre of Excellence launched earlier this month, which includes content contributions from generative AI solution providers and industry thought leaders.

Announced during AWS re:Invent 2023, the Geo and Global AWS Partner Awards recognize AWS Partners whose business models have embraced specialization, innovation, and cooperation over the past year, and those whose business models continue to evolve and thrive on AWS. Receiving a total of seven awards, Capgemini is recognized by AWS for playing a key role in helping clients drive innovation and build solutions on Amazon Web Services (AWS). A panel of AWS experts selected the winners based on strict criteria with third-party audit conducted by Canalys.
