Capgemini Research Institute¹ Ranked Number 1 for the quality of its research

Paris, September 24, 2018 – Capgemini Research Institute has been ranked No. 1 among 23 consulting and technology companies by independent analyst firm Source Global Research², for excellence in thought leadership content. Capgemini's research received its highest ranking due to its differentiation, appealing content, credible expert authors, and valuable recommendations with a clear call to action for readers. In Source's last report, Capgemini's research was ranked in the Top 3.

Source Global Research White Space analyzes and ranks consulting and technology firms' research based on its one-of-a-kind assessment methodology. In its latest report, "Quality ratings of thought leadership for the first half of 2018", Source ranked Capgemini first out of 23 leading consultancies and technology firms. This recognition is a testament to Capgemini Research Institute's expertise in conducting credible and reliable research, leveraging a global ecosystem of experts internally and externally. The report stated that "Capgemini's rise to the top of the table is a great example of what can be achieved with greater centralization, a clear and shared view of what good looks like, and a commitment to high quality thought leadership from the top of an organization."

The report specifically praised Capgemini Research Institute's recent study, "Automotive Smart Factories" for offering new insights, presenting an engaging style of writing and appealing design, all reinforced by credible research that offers recommendations for organizations at each of the different stages of development.

Rachel Ainsworth, Head of Thought Leadership at Source Global Research said, "Capgemini Research Institute tops our rankings thanks to the robustness of its research, its rigorous approach and the quality of its recommendations. With this ranking, Capgemini leads as an industry expert in creating credible content on emerging technologies."

The Capgemini Research Institute is a dedicated in-house think tank focused on exploring the impact of emerging technologies on businesses. Created in 2012, the Institute works with a global ecosystem of internal and external experts to produce high-quality publications with sharp actionable insights and analyses on digital technologies.

Jerome Buvat, Global Head of Research, Capgemini Research Institute said, "We are very proud to have secured the No. 1 ranking from Source Global Research. This is a great testimony to the robustness of our approach – working with a wide-ranging network of clients, partners, startups, academics and colleagues. This number one ranking recognizes and further boosts our resolve for helping businesses understand the fascinating future of a world where technology is at the forefront."
